

Web Developer – Job Description

We are looking for a full-time, skilled Web Developer, with a strong understanding of web design and copywriting principles. Your primary responsibilities will be focused on front-end development for websites built on top of a CMS. In addition, you will also be responsible for integrating front-end components into the back-end CMS in a client-accessible manner. As such, a good understanding of back-end (server-side) technologies is necessary.

The ideal candidate has experience with and understands the full development cycle: meeting with clients, wire framing, user interface design, user experience strategy, front-end development, as well as working with project managers, graphic designers, and copywriters for a successful product launch.

Minimum Qualifications

- 3+ years in designing and developing websites and/or applications
